

Why lab transverse momentum is the honest abscissa for a lab jet: at fixed p_T^{lab} the W slices differ by a few percent. The wide fan against total $|\vec{p}|_{\text{lab}}$ is largely a change of jet angle, since a fixed- $|\vec{p}|$ jet at higher W is more central and therefore harder in p_T .